Pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 60(a), the order filed October 22, 2010 is hereby amended primarily to delete the words "during the pendency of this action" from page 4, line 18 of the order. This amended order supersedes the order filed October 22, 2010. The clerk shall issue an amended judgment consistent with this order.

The amended order is as follows:

This is a trademark infringement action involving golf clubs. Plaintiff MRC Golf, Inc. ("MRC") filed a complaint against Defendant Hippo Golf Company, Inc. ("Hippo") for infringement. MRC, an exclusive distributor in the United States of Mitsubishi Rayon golf shafts, alleged that Hippo, a golf club distributor, was selling in the United States certain golf clubs falsely representing that their shafts were manufactured by Mitsubishi Rayon or with Mitsubishi Rayon materials and bearing the Mitsubishi Rayon trademark. The complaint alleges six causes of action: (1) false designation of origin and false description in violation of 15

1 U.S.C. § 1125(a); (2) dilution of trademark in violation of 15 U.S.C. § 1125(c); (3) dilution of 2 trademark in violation of California Business and Professions Code § 14245; (4) untrue and 3 misleading advertising in violation of California Business and Professions Code §§ 17500 and 4 17535; (5) unfair competition in violation of California Business and Professions Code § 17200;
 5 and (6) common law trademark infringement. Among other things, MRC requested injunctive 6 relief and damages.

7 On April 10, 2009 the parties stipulated to a preliminary injunction, which enjoined 8 Hippo from

9 using in any manner the name or mark ‘Mitsubishi Rayon’ either alone or in 10 combination with any other words which so [sic] resemble such designation as is 11 actually used by Plaintiff in connection with the importation, distribution, advertising, promotion, offering for sale and/or sale of any golf clubs or any other products.

12 (Joint Mot. Re Stipulated Prelim. Inj., filed Apr. 10, 2009 & Order Granting Joint Mot. for 13 Prelim. Inj., filed Apr. 13, 2009). In the proposed pretrial order and at the pretrial conference 14 held June 14, 2010 the parties stipulated to render the preliminary injunction permanent.

15 In addition, at the pretrial conference the parties were ordered to file motions on the 16 issues which could be resolved by motion rather than trial. (See Order After Pretrial Conference, 17 filed Jun. 16, 2010.) Pursuant to this order, MRC filed a summary judgment motion regarding 18 the claims for damages. Hippo did not file any motions and did not oppose MRC’s summary
 19 judgment motion.<sup>1</sup>

20 Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 56 empowers the court to enter summary judgment on 21 factually unsupported claims or defenses, and thereby “secure the just, speedy and inexpensive 22 determination of every action.” Celotex Corp. v. Catrett, 477 U.S. 317, 325, 327 (1986).
 23 Summary judgment or adjudication of issues is appropriate if the “pleadings, depositions, 24 answers to interrogatories, and admissions on file, together with the affidavits, if any, show that 25 there is no genuine issue as to any material fact and that the moving party is entitled to judgment

27 <sup>1</sup> On July 13, 2010 Hippo’s counsel filed a motion to withdraw, which was granted.
 28 (See Order Granting Ex Parte Application to Withdraw as Counsel of Record, filed Jul. 22, 2010.)

1 as a matter of law.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 56(c).

2 Together with MRC’s summary judgment motion, on July 1, 2010 the parties filed a Joint 3 Statement of Undisputed Facts, which is incorporated herein by reference. The parties agreed, 4 among other things, that MRC is

5 authorized to use, enforce and defend the “Mitsubishi Rayon” trade name and 6 designs. [¶] MRC has for more than 10 years engaged in interstate and world-7 wide manufacture and sale of Mitsubishi Rayon golf shafts. MRC is the sole 8 authorized seller of these golf shafts, and HIPPO has no right to sell this 9 product.

10 HIPPO was supplied from a third party vendor golf shafts that bore the words
11 “Mitsubishi Rayon” as that name appears on MRC’s golf shafts. The first supply 12 was shipped to HIPPO in 2007. HIPPO created advertising materials including 13 product catalogs for the years 2007 and 2008 representing to the public that it had 14 obtained special “Mitsubishi Rayon” proprietary golf shafts for sale to the public.
15 HIPPO’s golf clubs have never been made of “Mitsubishi Rayon” material.

16 (Joint Statement of Undisputed Facts, filed Jul. 1, 2010 (emphasis added).) Furthermore, 17 Hippo’s regional sales manager Jason Iocco admitted that the reputation of Mitsubishi Rayon 18 golf clubs was “very good” in the golfing community and that Hippo was using this as the 19 selling point for their golf clubs. (Pl.’s Ex. 5, Dep. of Jason Iocco at 7 & 13.) Hippo used 20 Mitsubishi Rayon’s reputation as a

21 part of the sales pitch to say . . . we’re now using Mitsubishi Rayon shafts. And 22 customers of ours immediately recognized the name Mitsubishi Rayon, and often 23 they would comment as, oh, yeah, as far as who on tour is using that shaft at the 24 time. . . . [I]t’s an obviously recognizable name and very important part of the 25 sales pitch that we would make with every phone call.

26 (Id. at 13.)

27 Based on the foregoing admission, agreed facts, and the stipulated permanent injunction, 28 there is no genuine issue as to any material fact whether Hippo violated 15 U.S.C. Section 1125(a) and that it is liable for the violation.

In addition to the stipulated permanent injunction, in its motion MRC requests a judgment for damages pursuant to 15 U.S.C. Section 1117(a) in the amount of Hippo’s gross receipts for the sale of the infringing golf clubs. The parties agreed that “HIPPO sold at least 20,501 golf clubs with the name ‘Mitsubishi Rayon’ on them during the years of 2007, 2008 and 2009. The total sales income generated from those sales was $1,321,535.” (Joint Statement of Undisputed

1 Facts at 2.) Section 1117(a) provides in pertinent part:

2 When . . . a violation under section 1125(a) or (d) of this title . . . shall have been 3 established in any civil action arising under this chapter, the plaintiff shall be 4 entitled, subject to the provisions of sections 1111 and 1114 of this title, and 5 subject to the principles of equity, to recover (1) defendant's profits, (2) any 6 damages sustained by the plaintiff, and (3) the costs of the action. . . . In assessing
 7 profits the plaintiff shall be required to prove defendant's sales only; defendant 8 must prove all elements of cost or deduction claimed. In assessing damages the court may enter judgment, according to the circumstances of the case, for any sum above the amount found as actual damages, not exceeding three times such amount. If the court shall find that the amount of the recovery based on profits is either inadequate or excessive the court may in its discretion enter judgment for such sum as the court shall find to be just, according to the circumstances of the case. . . .

9 It is undisputed that Hippo's sales of the infringing clubs amounted to $1,321,535. Hippo has 10 not presented any evidence or argument to meet its burden to prove any elements of cost or 11 deduction which should be subtracted from the sales to arrive at Hippo's profit under section 12 1117(a). "If the infringer provides no evidence from which the court can determine the amount 13 of any cost deductions, there is no obligation to make an estimate, and 'costs' need not form any 14 part of the calculation of profits." J. Thomas McCarthy, McCarthy on Trademarks and Unfair
 15 Competition, § 30:66 (4th ed., Westlaw 2010); see also Am. Honda Motor Co. v. Two Wheel
 16 Corp., 918 F.2d 1060, 1063 (2nd Cir. 1990) ("Ordinarily, a plaintiff that has proved the amount 17 of infringing sales would be entitled to that amount unless the defendant adequately proved the 18 amount of costs to be deducted from it."). Accordingly, MRC's motion for summary judgment 19 and damage award in the amount of $1,321,535 is GRANTED.

20 Based on the foregoing, the clerk shall enter an amended judgment for Plaintiff MRC
 21 Golf, Inc. against Defendant Hippo Golf Company, Inc. as follows:

22 1. Defendant Hippo Golf Company, Inc. and its officers, agents, employees, successors 23 and assigns are enjoined and restrained from using in any manner the name or mark "Mitsubishi 24 Rayon" either alone or in combination with any other words, which resemble said designation as 25 is actually used by Plaintiff MRC Golf, Inc., in connection with the importation, distribution, 26 advertising, promotion, offering for sale, and/or sale of any golf clubs or any other products; and

27 /////

28 /////

1           2. Plaintiff MRC Golf, Inc. shall recover the sum of $1,321,535 against Defendant
2 Hippo Golf Company, Inc.

3           IT IS SO ORDERED.
